

Download Advocacy Championing Ideas And Influencing Others

ST0480/01 2 Crown copyright 2017 You may re-use this information (not including logos) free of charge in any format or medium, under the terms of the Open Government Behaviours. What is required (developed and exhibited in the workplace) Personal and interpersonal effectiveness. Leads by Example. Has high levels of self-awareness, emotional and social intelligence, empathy and compassion, and able to identify mental well-being in others. Because their role can at different times span “lighter” advocacy work and “heavier” implementation work, and because they have a strong peer-influencing role, Knowledge Champions need to be well embedded in their formal and informal work networks – ie they need to have the trust and confidence of their peers as well as their managers. This article relies too much on references to primary sources. Please improve this by adding secondary or tertiary sources. (September 2016) (Learn how and when to remove this template message)