New Letters quarterly and its audio companion, New Letters on the Air, are part of a national literary tradition that serves readers and writers across the world. Welcome once again to my sporadically reoccurring segment on Steampunk magazine Online “Madeline Foxtrot’s No Torque Zone.” As stated before I don’t deal with spin, only truth, and I refuse to let my interviewers have the force to move me on my convictions. The “Traffic Calming” project on Mace Boulevard was unnecessary, not properly presented to the residents of South Davis, was obsolete when the plan was completed in 2013, and has created massive congestion, dangerous traffic issues, more safety issues for the bicyclists and pedestrians it was purported to protect, rampant road rage, and has ...
