

Download The Long Term Success Of Mergers And Acquisitions In The International Automotive Supply Industry

Evercore is widely regarded as the leading activist and raid defense advisor in the world. Our team has advised companies involved in the largest and most high-profile publicly-disclosed activist challenges and hostile defense assignments in recent years. Empirical analysis of specific acquisition strategies offers limited insight, largely because of the wide variety of types and sizes of acquisitions and the lack of an objective way to classify them by strategy.

4flow study Study on cost-optimal air and sea freight in international supply chains 11.03.2019 | 4flow has released a new supply chain management study entitled “Shipping, fast and slow – Balancing airfreight and sea freight in volatile manufacturing supply chains”. Use Supply Chain Design Technology to Tackle Automotive Industry Challenges LLamasoft has enabled some of the world’s leading automotive companies to turn common industry challenges into sources of competitive advantage.